Ask your partner the following questions and write the answers.

What car will you drive?	Who will you marry?	What will your job be?	How many children will you have?	Where will you live? (place)

To the line, have your partner draw a square with their eyes closed. Tell them "GO" to start drawing and "STOP" to stop. Count the number of times the circle goes across the line. Then, for every question, count the answers to this number and circled out until only one answer remains.

Write your partner's answers.
