

the hard, rocky covering of the earth streak

the color of the mark that a mineral makes when it is scraped on a erosion

the movement of weathered rock by water, wind, ice, & gravity mineral

a nonliving substance found in nature; made of crystals with the same chemical weathering

process in which rocks exposed to weather are worn down by water, wind, ice, rock

made up of two or more minerals; can contain plant & sediment