

Question marks

We use a question mark at the end of a sentence that asks a question.
A question mark takes the place of a period.

Write a period or a question mark at the end of each sentence below. Then write the whole sentence.

Do you like dogs?

I like dogs a lot

I like cats also

Do you like them?

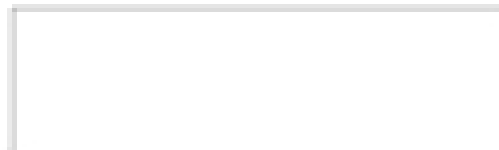

Do you have a pet?

What is your pet's name?

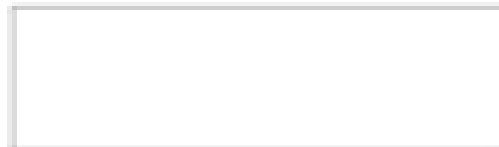

My pet is called Kit

I love my pet

First draw pictures, then answer the questions below.

Draw another mouse.
Are there two or three mice now?

Draw a cat.
Does it have a tail?