

Name: _____

Science is in Everything

Look around you at the objects in the room or outside. What do you see? Many of the things we see or use daily were created from science exploration.

Directions: Write about each object below and how it might be used in everyday life. Tell what type of science is involved.

Types of Science: biology (study of animals and plants), geology (study of the earth), chemistry (study of matter), astronomy (study of outer space), oceanography (study of the ocean), computer engineering, (computer sciences).

Nintendo

scuba tank

coal stove

dish soap
