

Module 100: Clinical Practice - Clinical Medication Administration
 (This will need to make additional copies of these forms)

Current Nurse Assignment	Trade Name	Classification	Dose	Route	Frequency
Nurse	Trade Name	Generic Name	Usual Dose Range Minimum Dose to 2X Maximal Dose or as Directed according to US Package
Why is this patient getting the medication?			How do you verify compatibility with all ingredients including this?
Mechanism of action and indications: Pharmacokinetics What is the purpose of administration? How does it work? What is the route of administration? How is it absorbed? How is it metabolized? How is it excreted? What are the potential side effects? What are the contraindications? What are the precautions? What are the nursing implications? What are the patient education needs?			Nursing Implications (Adverse Effects and Precautions): What are the signs and symptoms of adverse effects? What are the nursing implications of adverse effects? What are the nursing implications of contraindications? What are the nursing implications of precautions? What are the nursing implications of patient education needs?
Interactions with other patient drugs, IV's, or herbal products (see patient file sheet). Additional Implications (e.g., monitoring and assessment) with other interventions (e.g., patient education, nursing interventions, etc.)			Lab Values (including monitoring results): What lab values are affected by this medication? How are they affected? What are the nursing implications of abnormal lab values? What are the nursing implications of monitoring lab values? What are the nursing implications of patient education needs?
Timing Considerations How often should it be given? How long should it be given for? What are the nursing implications of timing? What are the nursing implications of duration? What are the nursing implications of patient education needs?		Assessment What should you assess and when? How often? What are the nursing implications of assessment? What are the nursing implications of patient education needs?	Evaluation How often should you evaluate? How long should you evaluate for? What are the nursing implications of evaluation? What are the nursing implications of patient education needs?		