

Name _____

Happy Birthday to Our Flag!

Read the passage.

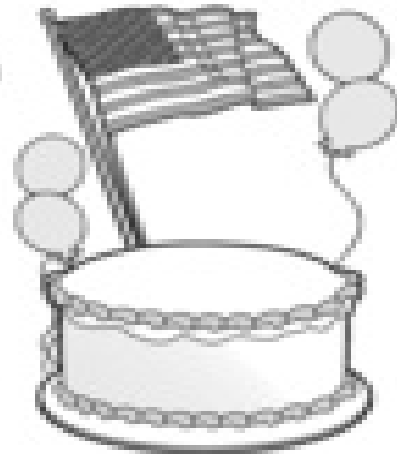

Answer each question below.

In the star in front of each question, write the number of the passage line where the answer is found.

On June 14, 1777, members of Congress passed the first law about a flag. The flag had 13 stars and 13 stripes that stood for the 13 original colonies. As the country grew, so did the flag. Today it has 50 stars, one for each state in America.

Americans celebrate the flag's birthday each year on June 14. Flags are displayed in homes, offices, and schools. People sing songs, have picnics, and march in parades. Each celebration honors our flag, Old Glory.
