

Connectives

Here are some one-word connectives.

and	but	when	because
so	for	as	though

Choose a different one of these connectives to link each of the paired sentences below. Remember: Connectives are words or phrases that link together different parts of a text. Connectives that link sentences, clauses, or parts of phrases are called conjunctions.

I fell over. I hurt my knee. _____
_____

The game ended. The referee blew his whistle. _____
_____

She couldn't ride her bike. It had a puncture. _____
_____

I couldn't spell that word. I touched the dictionary. _____
_____

We arrived on time. The train was delayed. _____
_____

Here are some words and phrases that can also be used as connectives.

also	however	the more	for example	as this
------	---------	----------	-------------	---------

Fit the connectives above into the spaces in these three paragraphs.

Many kinds of words can be used to connect ideas in a piece of writing. F____ c____, p____, a____, and c_____ are all useful.

T_____ that we can make our writing more varied and more interesting to read. A____, the words we choose can help us to make our meaning clearer to our readers.

H____, we should try not to use too many of these connectives in a short piece. _____ can make our sentences long and confusing.