

1. The first part of the drawing is the head and neck of the bird. It is a simple line drawing of a bird's head in profile, facing right. The beak is pointed and slightly curved. The eye is a simple dot with a small circle around it. The neck is a simple line extending from the base of the beak.

2. The second part of the drawing is the body and tail of the bird. It is a simple line drawing of a bird's body in profile, facing right. The body is rounded and tapers towards the tail. The tail is a simple line extending from the back of the body. The legs are simple lines extending from the bottom of the body.