

EPISODE 34 Stalactite City

7

In this drawing we have combined everything we have learned in the last thirty-three 3-D drawing lessons. We have castles, mountains, craters, dragons, elves, cylinders, spheres, windows, doors, and cool-looking feet sticking out! How many Renaissance Words have I used to create this Stalactite City? Stalactite means a formation of rock hanging from the ceiling. Stalactites drip minerals down upon a cave floor and create the rock formations called stalagmites. Another bit of scientific information for your scientific computer mind to store!
