

Liar!

Someone stole my phone yesterday between 6 and 8pm. I think it was you, or someone you know.

You have to remember what you and your friends and family were doing yesterday between 6:00pm and 8:00pm. If you can remember everything, you're not lying. If you can't remember everything, you're a liar!

You have 30 seconds to remember your card. Then, give your card to the questioner(s).

Example card: ↓

Say:

Your: was studying
Your sister: was hanging out with her friends
Your brother: was watching a movie
Your friends: were having dinner
Your parents: were working

"I was studying."
"She was hanging out with her friends."
"He was watching a movie."
"They were having dinner."
"They were working."

A: What were you doing yesterday between 6 and 8pm?

Accused: I was studying.

B: What was your sister doing?

Accused: She was hanging out with her friends.

C: What was your brother doing?

Accused: He was having dinner.

A, B, C: Liar!

Note: You can also ask 'follow up' questions, to try to confuse the accused.
