

A French Essay: Few Tips for Completing a Very Good One.

French is one of the most popular and beautiful languages in the world. It is widely spoken in twenty-nine countries, and it is studied as a foreign language in many more countries. So, learning French as a foreign language is very interesting, but not an easy task, as you will also have to complete different types of essays for university in French. One of such types of writing is a French essay.

A French essay is a great possibility to learn more about the traditions and culture of France, improve your writing skills and language.

Writing an essay is a difficult task, especially, in a foreign language. This article is aimed at providing you with several tips that will help you complete a good French essay.

1. First of all, remember that writing a French essay, as well as getting sample academic essays and term papers help in your native language, has its rules. Consider below the structural elements of a French essay and several expression that will help you with your writing.
2. As any other type of essay, a French essay should begin with the introduction. In the introduction of a French essay, you should present the topic of your writing. You can use such expressions: "On entend souvent dire que" (It is often said that), "tout le monde s'accorde à penser que" (everyone agrees that).
3. Do not forget about the thesis statement of your French essay.
4. The next step of a French essay is writing the body. It should consist of several paragraphs that disclose the topic. You can start the first paragraph of a French essay with the expression "pour tenter de répondre a cette question, nous évoquerons dans un question" (to answer this question, we should first of all examine the question).
5. The conclusion of a French essay can be introduced by a phrase "tout bien considere" (all in all).