

Comparative Degree

In English, changing the words red, bigger, to show the a comparison changes the meaning. Complete these sentences and give an/any answer for questions. Write other correct suggestions, corrections or examples.

I love you.

I love you.

I love you.

I love you.

Use this dialogue with a partner. The customer will choose words in boxes A, B & C. Check that words you think should be changed and say how to do it.

Use 3 has been used for you - By choosing shirt, the customer is asking:

"What - I don't want a shirt - I want a SHIRT"

Customer	Shop Keeper
1) I'd like a big, red cotton shirt.	2) Here you are. It big, red cotton shirt.
2) Yes, I said I'd like a big, red-cotton shirt.	3) Here you are. It big, red silk shirt.
3) Yes, I said I'd like a big, red-cotton shirt.	4) Here you are. It big, blue cotton shirt.
4) Yes, I said I'd like a big, red-cotton shirt.	5) Sorry, I haven't got one.