A Story About Ruby Brink

“Follow
me when I go out and you’ll really
see what Ruby’s mother
said was

Ruby was the young one, and she was going to a new school. People all over the world knew about Ruby, and this was the first day of school.

Ruby and her mother rode to school in a special car with two big windows. An empty street was waiting outside the school. The people were shouting and knowing things.

Ruby walked toward the entrance into the school. All of the children in the school left when Ruby came. She and her mother sat in the principal’s office. They watched the other boys and girls come. They sat in the office the whole day.
