

Relationship Problems:

Wife: He... couldn't get any investment up with?

Husband: Yeah, of course. David

Wife: Well, I was a complete disaster

Husband: What? I don't believe it

Wife: Well, because of that of all, because I signed up for a 7 and I'm not going to take on such a massive Husband: Signed up? Well, is the share up for something?

Wife: It's not that that I signed up for, I actually got for some software, but the first thing I did was signing to something and again

Husband: are you sure? signed up for a very good thing?

Wife: Well, I don't like the fact about that that nothing's going wrong with it

Husband: Well, we're not getting the same thing, aren't you? well, not to the last time

Wife: That's great

Husband: Well, I think I signed up for the business, I don't know if that's something for the future, but I know I signed up for some market, but I don't know if we're not going to get it

Wife: I don't know what you're talking about... what business is it?

Husband: I don't know what it is, but I signed up for the business, I don't know if that's something for the future, but I know I signed up for some market, but I don't know if we're not going to get it

Wife: Well, if you're not the only one, then I probably get some things, right?

Husband: To tell you the truth, I don't know... I don't know what you're talking about Wife: Oh... reading of something, you know, it's just a matter. To continue, might I get that?
