

Where do I get ideas for my topic?

Famous Topical Storm Areas

1. Your interests or hobbies
2. Teacher suggestions
3. Science class topics
4. Parents, relatives, and friends
5. Library
6. TV

What kind of topics are best to choose?

Be sure your topic can be tested. Topics such as space and planets are good to re-search, but it would be difficult to set up an experiment to test your research. Keep in mind that you will be researching your topic and then setting up an experiment to test your hypothesis. If you keep this process in mind, it will help you choose appropriate topics.
