

Objective: Making questions "Who is the subject"

Important: if "who" is used as the subject, decide not use "who/whom" in the question.

Example:

Question	Answer
A) Who is the subject? Components	Answer: Who is the subject? Components are prepositions Who
B) What is the subject? Components	A: What is the subject? Components
C) Which is the subject? Components	A: Which is the subject? Components
D) Who is the subject? Components	A: Who is the subject? Components

If subject is needed or if the question is "Who is the subject" use "Who/whom" in the question.

Q10

Question:

Answer:

A) Who is the subject?
B) What is the subject?
C) Which is the subject?
D) Who is the subject?
E) Who is the subject?
F) Who is the subject?
G) Who is the subject?
H) Who is the subject?
I) Who is the subject?
J) Who is the subject?
K) Who is the subject?
L) Who is the subject?
M) Who is the subject?
N) Who is the subject?
O) Who is the subject?
P) Who is the subject?
Q) Who is the subject?
R) Who is the subject?
S) Who is the subject?
T) Who is the subject?
U) Who is the subject?
V) Who is the subject?
W) Who is the subject?
X) Who is the subject?
Y) Who is the subject?
Z) Who is the subject?

(Answer key)