

Superlative Adjectives

Name: _____

Adjectives that are used to compare three or more people or things have special forms. Superlative adjectives show the extreme highest or lowest ranking. Consider the three adjectives: good, better, best. Good is a regular adjective that could describe anything pleasing. Better is a comparative adjective. Best is a superlative adjective. Of all the people or items presented, only one can be the best. This was a positive example, but the same rules apply for negatives. Consider the adjectives: bad, worse, worst. There can be only one person or thing that is the worst of all those being considered.

- * If the regular adjective has one syllable, add "-est" to make the superlative form. (Make the second consonant double if you have a short consonant-vowel-consonant word).
- * If the adjective ends in y, change the y to i before adding -est.
- * For many regular adjectives with two or more syllables, use the word most before the adjective and do not add -est.

Write the superlative form of each adjective.
