

Lincoln and Kennedy : Coincidences or Inventions

American presidents Abraham Lincoln and John F. Kennedy were both tragically assassinated during their term in office. Both men were admired by many people but actually hated by those who opposed their political views. Lincoln after leaving was assassinated, so people believed that he would have ruled. Both men were considered as some amazing politicians.

Here is a list of websites that will help you while doing the activities:

www.whitehouse.gov/foia/pdf/president/abrahamlincoln.pdf

www.historyplace.com/lincoln/

www.whitehouse.gov/foia/pdf/president/johnfkennedy.pdf

www.jfklibrary.org

www.snopes.com/history/american/lincoln-kennedy.asp

1. Let's begin talking about political issues. Read the questions and answer them.
 - Both presidents they ruled a country. Where was that country? How did they rule? _____
 - Both presidents were killed by a "What was the name of that man? Where was they fighting against? _____
 - Both presidents were connected to their assassinations. What were that name? _____
 - What was the name of Kennedy's _____