

EXERCISE: Prepared Responses to Moral Stimulus

Read the following hypothetical scenarios, reflecting the moral dilemmas that you and the class members will face. Think about the prospects, options, and consequences of the possible actions that you might take.

1. Write down the moral issues and ethical principles involved. (10 minutes)
2. Respond to your classmate's moral questions and queries. (10 minutes)

Students are lining up for the exercise and looking at the other scenarios to discuss in class.

Class Questions

1. The Greek government has been accused of covering up the truth. How do you feel about this? What do you think about the subject?
2. Do you think the drug companies are doing enough to help the people who need the most help? Why or why not?
3. Do you think it is important for the government to regulate the pharmaceutical industry? Why or why not?
4. "The pharmaceutical industry is the most profitable industry in the world. Why do you think it is so profitable? Do you think it is worth the cost to the public?" Do you agree with this statement? Why or why not?
