

Discriminating Correct & Incorrect Visual Clues

Name

Color the picture. Draw an X on five things in the picture that do not belong.

Using a tape recorder make a detailed description of a room in your house. Include colors in your description. While you are recording, add a few fantasy, out-of details to the room's description. For example say, "There is a large green elephant in the living room by the front window." Play the tape for your child and ask him or her to identify the few things that are wrong in the room's description.
