Try to work out which person bought which sweater for what price ($48, $59, $68, $33?) also the size (small, medium, large, extra large) and color (Yellow, Purple, Red, Blue)

Tom bought the first sweater that was more expensive than Mary's sweater but less than the Yellow one. The Medium sweater didn't belong to Fred or Tom and was not red or blue. Sue didn't have the cheapest sweater but it was less expensive than Fred's sweater. The Small sweater cost $48. The Yellow sweater is bigger than Sue's Sweater but smaller than Tom's. The extra large sweater is Red and is more expensive than the the purple one.
