

Writing Thesis Statements in 3 Steps

1. Make the topic specific	2. Continue with a debatable phrase	3. Explain the significance to the audience
Exactly who?	does...	, proving that...
When?	does not...
How many?	should...	, resulting in...
Which ones?	should not...
Where?	highlights...	, making us doubt...
	ignores...	, reminding us that...

Example 1: The longer school day in Chicago next year does not guarantee that students will be productive in classes, reminding us that young people need to find learning meaningful.

Example 2: The longer school day in Chicago next year does guarantee more learning opportunities, resulting in increased student success.
