

TRANSITIVE AND INTRANSITIVE VERBS

Verb is a transitive verb if a sentence with complete meaning is the form of a noun or pronoun to complete its meaning. This subject answers for the question "Who or what?"

Example: The students answered questions.

Verb is intransitive verb if a sentence

Example: They

Who or what? They

Formula: Subject + Verb + Object

Verb is an intransitive verb if a sentence with it does not need any object to complete its meaning. The sentence may end with the verb, an adjective, or an adverb.

Put a dot if you can identify the verb in the following examples. Write a number in the blank space, write transitive or intransitive.

1. My mother loves reading the novel. _____
2. There are ten people living here. _____
3. Many students sleep late on the weekend. _____
4. London really got her name. _____
5. Don't forget to buy an album. _____
6. Most of the students were laughing. _____
7. My car was stolen last night. _____