

Expository Composition 2

Daniel had to describe a special place. Read Daniel's paper and think about how he should revise or what corrections he should make.

A place that is special to me is Austin books and comics or, ABC for short. ABC is a store in Austin, Texas that sells a variety of things. ABC is a pretty small store, but it has really fantastic merchandise. Some things they sell are comics, books, toys, and clothing. Also, a lot of their comics are really cheap. Some are only 50¢! They also have a few statues of super heroes. In the middle of the store, there is a humorous statue of the incredible Hulk. Hanging from the ceiling there is a life size silver surfer. I really enjoy going to Austin Books and Comics because it is really spectacular, and it is by a delicious restaurant to get dinner. If you live in a different town though, you might not get to go very often. Austin books and comics is probably my favorite store and it's always begging my mom to go. Those were some reasons why Austin books and comics is a special place to me.
