

INFINITIVE PHRASES WORKSHEET

Part 1: Underline the infinitive phrases in these sentences. For an extra challenge, label the infinitive phrases as nouns, adjectives, or adverbs.

1. To err is human; to forgive is divine.
2. The next step in Practical Joke #472 is to place the live garter snake in the teacher's desk drawer.
3. The time to act is now.
4. I'd like to participate in the triathlon, but I don't want to do all that running and biking and swimming.
5. To consider the fundraiser a success, we must raise another thousand dollars, which will go to the "Mr. Freeman Wants a New Ride Fund."
6. I give blood to help someone who might need it, but I also like to eat the free animal crackers they give you after you're finished donating.
7. On the way to the cafeteria, I smelled the food and decided to become a vegetarian.

Part 2: Now, fill in the blanks with infinitive phrases of your own creation.

1. Your work is nearly done, but you still need _____.
2. The best way to tick off Ms. Wertheimer would be _____.
3. I can't understand why you got so angry when I asked you _____
_____.
4. We read Shakespeare every year _____.
5. The best place _____ is Altoona, Pennsylvania.
6. Most people exercise _____; I do it
_____.