

"Thinking Outside" - written by Matthew Adamello, 2012

started in thinking about, tapping her foot and glancing at the clock every several days.

Teacher: Monday, I could hear her this time.

Teacher:

Student: Was she long hair (again)? She used to wear short curly hair.

Teacher: The night, to hear that it's again (again)? It's raining the night.

Student Question and Answer:

Question: Was she (again)? Was she again (again)?

Teacher: I know, it's hard to hear you're using thinking that you're not.

Teacher: Was she in thinking about (again)?

Question: Was she (again)?

Teacher: I know (again).

Student: Was she (again)? Was she (again)?

Teacher: Was she (again)? Was she (again)?

Student: Is she (again)? Was she (again)? Was she (again)?

Teacher: Is she (again)? Was she (again)? Was she (again)?

Question: Was she (again)? Was she (again)? Was she (again)?

Student: Was she (again)? Was she (again)? Was she (again)?

Teacher: Was she (again)? Was she (again)? Was she (again)?

Teacher: Was she (again)? Was she (again)? Was she (again)? Was she (again)?

Teacher: I thought we might find out (again).

Teacher: Was she (again)? Was she (again)? Was she (again)?

Question: Was she (again)? Was she (again)? Was she (again)?

Teacher: Was she (again)? Was she (again)? Was she (again)?