

SUBJECT VERB AGREEMENT

Subjects and verbs must agree in number. Both must be singular, or both must be plural.

Let's make breakfast!
Pancakes with syrup
sounds yummy!

Pancakes with syrup
SOUND yummy. "Pancakes"
is the subject, not "syrup."

Everyone like
pancakes!

Everyone also "likes"
subjects and verbs
that agree.

Each of us get
three pancakes.

No, each GETS three panackes. "Each"
is singular.

Either juice or
coffee goes
with pancakes.

Neither you nor I
likes coffee, so
we'll have juice.

Cereal or eggs
are tasty too.

I agree. Eggs or cereal would be delicious.

Pancakes, while a filling
breakfast, are messy!

Well, the English language can be
sticky too.
