

What are Lice?

Lice are tiny insects. There are male and female lice.

A female louse

A male louse

The female louse lays eggs, called nits.

Lice live on blood. This makes your head itch.

True or False?

A large grey rectangular area containing several illustrations of lice and their eggs (nits) on hair strands. Each illustration is accompanied by a set of horizontal dotted lines for writing answers to the 'True or False?' questions.