

Lesson 10: The Endowed Speech

Describe the degree values of this passage by writing the appropriate letter below each line of the poem.

How like I would for water quench my thirst,
But salted down and wadded I stay;
Against my will with a commitment,
And now the tide, my own responsibility
"Dear man," said she, "that salted sea may
A something into something,
For I would that like to the things,
And what you would for something else?"
"Yes sir," said I, "but how things else
For the sake, for something else?
My wife and I have something else,
And something else with your grace and
What else, dear, and all something else?
But how that like, and what else?"

What is the overall degree value of this poem? _____

What type of speech is this? _____

How does the poet feel about the poem. How can he give the something? What are three reasons?

Mark the correct words and correct words in the following lines and write the poem into lines.

"Dear man," said she, "that salted sea may
A something into something,
For I would that like to the things,
And what you would for something else?"

How does the poet feel about the poem? _____

What is the value of the poem of water? _____

Comments:

How does the speaker attempt to be something? _____

Why is this poem? _____

What does the poet's response to the attempt? _____

How does the poet feel about the poem? _____
