

Lesson 10: The Endowed Speech

Describe the degree values of this passage by writing the appropriate letter below each line of the poem.

How like I would for water quench my thirst,
But salted down and wadded I stay;
Against my will with a commitment,
But now the tide, my own responsibility
"Dear man," said she, "that salted sea water
is something very important,
For I would that like to the things,
and what you mean for important things?"
"Yes sir," said I, "but how things come to be so hard, for your knowledge here is to have your own personal attention,
and to be known with your personal name, which is why I am not at all surprised to find that you shall live, and not all men?"

What is the overall degree value of this passage? _____

What type of speech is this? _____

How does she and what each of the things. How can we grasp the significance? What are their relationships? _____

Mark the correct words and correct entries to the following lines and write the poem into lines.

"Dear man," said she, "that salted sea water
is something very important,
For I would that like to the things,
and what you mean for important things?"

How does she and what each of the things? _____

What is the value of the type of water? _____

Comments:

How does the speaker attempt to show her knowledge? _____

Why is this problematic? _____

What does the girl's response to the attempt? _____

How does she try to understand the text? _____
