

Who Am I?
Where am I going?
How will I get there?

Worksheet Guide—Autobiographical Letter Assignment

Brainstorm and generate ideas to include in your autobiographical letter as you complete the following worksheet pages.

1. Introduce yourself as a learner.

- Establish the purpose of the letter.
- Highlight specific skills and strengths.
- Define yourself as a learner. Describe how you learn and how you demonstrate your skills.
- Use a sincere voice.
- Supply in-depth meaningful information about yourself. Include Multiple Intelligence, Learning Styles, and Dependable Strengths.

Pre-write ideas you will include in the introductory paragraph of your letter.

2. Analyze how identified academic skills, knowledge, and strengths indicate that you are ready to graduate.

- Include information about what you have learned during your years in school.
- Define your skills, knowledge and strengths and support with examples.
- Demonstrate evidence of your experiences.
- Establish your ability to learn independently. Introduce your SW Project here.

Pre-write ideas you will include in the next section of your letter.
