

Examples of MLA Works Cited -- 6th Ed

Ask for the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers located at the Circulation desk or go to REF LB 2369 .G53 2003 (Row 2)

Follow the instructions given by your instructor. Instructors establish the standard required for your course. These examples are based on the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers, 6th ed.

Encyclopedia articles & dictionary definitions 5.6.8 (p. 161)

"Stress." The World Book Encyclopedia. 2003 ed.

"Stress." The New Encyclopaedia Britannica: Micropaedia. 15th ed. 2003.

"Stress." Def. 1. Longman Dictionary of American English. 2003.

Books

- One author 5.6.1 (p. 147-52)

Hargreaves, Gerard. Stress Management: The Essential Guide to Thinking and Working Smarter. New York: AMA, 1998.

- Two or three authors 5.6.4 (p. 154)

Hill, Charles W. L., and Gareth R. Jones. Strategic Management: An Integrated Approach. 6th ed. Boston: Houghton, 2004.

- Four or more authors 5.6.4 (p. 154-55)

Janey, Carl, et al. Yoga to Relax. San Francisco: Rockport, 2002.

- Editors 5.6.2 (p. 152-53)

Ciarrochi, Joseph, Joseph P. Forgas, and John D. Mayer, eds. Intelligence in Everyday Life: A Scientific Enquiry. Philadelphia: Psychology, 2001.

Work in an Anthology 5.6.7 (p. 158-60)

- Taking Sides -- Issue Summary

Daniel, Eileen L. and Carol Levine, eds. "Is Stress Responsible for Disease?" Taking Sides: Clashing Views on Controversial Issues in Health and Society. 5th ed. Guilford, CT: McGraw, 2001. 140-41.

- Taking Sides -- Yes / No Articles

Caldwell, Christopher. "The Use and Abuse of Stress." Taking Sides: Clashing Views on Controversial Issues in Health and Society. Ed. Eileen L. Daniel and Carol Levine. 5th ed. Guilford, CT: McGraw, 2001. 146-50.

"Can Stress Make You Sick?" Taking Sides: Clashing Views on Controversial Issues in Health and Society. Ed. Eileen L. Daniel and Carol Levine. 5th ed. Guilford, CT: McGraw, 2001. 142-45. [No author is listed for this article]

- Article in a book

Tynes, J. Scott. "Globalization Harms Developing Nations' Cultures." Developing Nations. Ed. Berna Miller and James D. Torr. Farmington, MI: Greenhaven, 2003. 65-72.