

Paragraph Writing

A. Good paragraph examples:

- 1) A topic sentence: This sentence tells what the paragraph is going to be about.
- 2) Supporting sentences: These sentences tell more about the topic.
- 3) A concluding sentence: This sentence brings together all the other sentences and summarizes the topic.

Write next the paragraph and number the topic sentence 1, the supporting sentences 2, and the concluding sentence 3.

1) How Computers Work

At one point, most people could not even use a computer. It was like magic. Now, it is so simple that even children can use it. It has made our lives so much easier. It has changed the way we work, play, and learn. It has made the world a smaller place. It has made it possible for us to do things that we could not do before. It has made the world a better place. It has made the world a more interesting place. It has made the world a more fun place. It has made the world a more beautiful place. It has made the world a more exciting place. It has made the world a more wonderful place. It has made the world a more amazing place. It has made the world a more incredible place. It has made the world a more unbelievable place. It has made the world a more extraordinary place. It has made the world a more remarkable place. It has made the world a more extraordinary place. It has made the world a more remarkable place. It has made the world a more extraordinary place. It has made the world a more remarkable place.

The paragraph is numbered. Write next to the topic sentence 1, the supporting sentences 2, and the concluding sentence 3.

2) Computers are Great

At one point, most people could not even use a computer. It was like magic. Now, it is so simple that even children can use it. It has made our lives so much easier. It has changed the way we work, play, and learn. It has made the world a smaller place. It has made it possible for us to do things that we could not do before. It has made the world a better place. It has made the world a more interesting place. It has made the world a more fun place. It has made the world a more beautiful place. It has made the world a more exciting place. It has made the world a more wonderful place. It has made the world a more amazing place. It has made the world a more incredible place. It has made the world a more unbelievable place. It has made the world a more extraordinary place. It has made the world a more remarkable place. It has made the world a more extraordinary place. It has made the world a more remarkable place. It has made the world a more extraordinary place. It has made the world a more remarkable place.
