

Teachers: Cut apart the strips on this page and tape them in various locations around your room.

1.	There once lived a queen who wanted to help all the people in her land be happy. She helped deliver food, kept the town clean, and had free entertainment on Sunday. Everyone loved her.	Is this story written in the first person or third person?
2.	He ate all the cake! Unbelievable! How could he eat an entire cake all by himself? He must have one serious issue!	Is this story written in the first person or third person?
3.	I love going to the mall. I always have so much fun, even if I don't buy anything. I think it's entertaining just to walk around and look at new things. I could spend hours there!	Is this story written in the first person or third person?
4.	It's a beautiful day! The sun is shining brightly and the weather is fair. There's not a cloud in the sky. What a nice day!	Is this story written in the first person or third person?
5.	I cannot wait for winter break! I am going skiing in West Virginia. I love skiing!	Is this story written in the first person or third person?
6.	I have a secret. Don't tell anyone, okay? My mom told me to clean my room on Saturday, but all I did was push everything under my bed. I'm going to be in trouble when she finds out, but right now I don't care!	Is this story written in the first person or third person?
7.	He drives so fast! It's terrifying! He thinks he's a racecar driver or something. One day he's going to get a speeding ticket or wreck his truck.	Is this story written in the first person or third person?
8.	I know all of my multiplication facts. I've known them since the summer before third grade because my mom is a teacher and she made me learn them. I didn't like it at the time, but now I'm glad.	Is this story written in the first person or third person?
9.	Lady Gaga is awesome. She is so crazy and her voice is amazing. Listening to her music puts everyone in a good mood. She's the best!	Is this story written in the first person or third person?