

This took place between 1861 and 1865 and was a war between the Northern States (the Union) and the Southern States (the Confederacy) of the United States of America. Who became the first president of the United States?	The reason was that the Northerners with their leader Abraham Lincoln, wanted all the people to be free. The Southerners, however wanted the black people to work as slaves in their plantations. Where were the large battles of the Civil War? How did the Civil War end?
The war, where Americans fought Americans, was the deadliest in American history. In the four years it lasted, more than 600,000 soldiers died. When did the American Civil War take place?	There were many large battles, such as those of Gettysburg and Richmond. Who were the two fighting parties in the Civil War?
The Mississippi River begins at Lake Itaska, high in the mountains of Minnesota, and runs 2,320 miles (3,734km) down to the Gulf of Mexico. Why is Mississippi important for the people?	It is the second longest river in America and it goes through some of America's greatest cities, like those of Memphis and New Orleans. Where does the name Mississippi come from?
	Finally, the Union won the war, ending the slavery of black people in America and Abraham Lincoln became president of the United States in 1865. What was the reason for breaking out the Civil War?