AN ADVERTISING COPY OF A BOOK

I am an old lady, they look like I have become old and they would have looked very angry by my own choice.

Now I look like the old days when I was a little girl and I was a little boy. The house was built through me. The house was so big and so big. I was very happy then.

One day I was really sad and I was alone. I was alone in a paper mill. My old house was broken and I was in this house of paper. In paper there, I was in a paper mill. There a story was printed on me and my family pictures were printed too to illustrate the story.

My computer and I were not in a large book shop. It was a large book shop for the little child. The child was delighted to see me. He spent many hours looking at my picture. He looked at my page very carefully. He looked at my picture very carefully.

Now the house is old and I am old. One of the child's friends told me that he was home. He then was old and I was old. I was old and I was old. My page became very old. Now I am old and I am old. I am old and I am old.
