

How Radiation Works

- Radiation is heat transfer as a form of light. When a light shines on an object, the light waves hitting the object cause its particles to vibrate, so the object gets hotter.
- The Sun radiates heat to the Earth.