

Snowman Math

Start the holiday season with this clever math idea.

Cut several snowmen from white paper. Label each one with a different math problem. Tape the snowmen to popsicle sticks and write the answers on the bottom of the sticks.

Decorate a shallow box with holiday wrapping paper. Cut slits in the box with an art knife and insert each stick so that the answer is hidden.

Students can solve the math problems and then pull the snowmen to check their answers.