

Name _____

Date _____

PREFIXES PRACTICE

A prefix is a letter or group of letters that is added to the beginning of a word. The prefix re- means "to do again." re + gain = regain - the prefix is "re" and the base word is "gain."

Example A: I watched a re-run of the TV show.

Answer: I watched a re-run of the TV show. base word = run

Underline the word with the prefix in each sentence. Write the base word on the line provided.

The official decided to review the rules. _____

Some of the wood can be re-used for later. _____

I could tell that the essay was rewritten. _____

I wanted to regain my range of motion after the injury. _____

Our school always tells the students to recycle. _____

Some of the materials can be reworked to make new ones. _____

The re-run was very interesting to watch. _____

I decided to revisit the city to check for evidence. _____

I had to review my homework before the test. _____

The teacher had to retell the entire story. _____

A prefix is a letter or group of letters that is added to the beginning of a word

Example A: My favorite team made it to the semi-finals.

Answer: semi-finals

Circle the word with the prefix in each sentence given below.

The entire school had to wear the new uniforms.

I rode my bicycle home from school with my friends.

My parents bought a new automobile this past Sunday.

We went shopping for food at the supermarket.

The players went to a pre-game meal.

I made sure to take the pre-test so I could pass my exam.

I had to re-organize my backpack before coming back to school.

We learned about the postmodern era in history class.