

The lion and the mouse

1. Have a look at the pictures, read the following paragraphs and rearrange them to make the fable up according to the pictures above:

( ) The lion was very amused by what the little mouse had said. "Oh, you are very brave to plead with the King of the jungle", the lion said laughing. But at last, he set the mouse free.

( ) From that time forwards the lion and the mouse were the very best of friends.

( ) One day a little mouse was hurrying through the forest. In its rush, it ran into a lion who was taking a nap under a large tree.

( ) A few days later the lion was roaming the jungle. He fell into a trap set by hunters. The trap was made out of rope. The lion was not able to free himself. He roared and roared.
