Habitats

Directions: Where an animal lives is called its habitat. Animals live in certain areas of the world, and in certain types of environments. Choose two animals. Think about, or research, each animal's habitat. Draw the environment in which the animal would be found, and write about why it would live in this habitat.

The image shows two large rectangular boxes, each defined by a dashed line. These boxes are intended for students to draw the habitat of the animals they have chosen. Each box is approximately 300x200 pixels in size.

There are two sets of horizontal lines for writing, one set corresponding to each habitat drawing box. Each set consists of seven parallel lines, providing space for students to describe why the animal would live in that habitat.
