

3. While listening, illustrate some of their observations. Listen to it and describe both how and what went on in their story about the book they might have heard earlier.

4. You are now going to read a short story of bigger bigger boy - The Blanket. Underline the words you like.

You are going to the moon. But it is very dangerous so first have a look at the moon and see what you can see.

There are many stars in the sky and the moon is one of them. There are also other things which are not stars like clouds and the like. When I say stars, I mean the ones that twinkle when you look at them. When I say clouds, I mean the ones that move slowly across the sky. The moon is a great big, round ball of light which always goes around the sun.

I am going to tell you a story of a boy who is called Blanket. He is a very good boy and he likes to play with his friends. He likes to play with his friends because he likes to play with them.

The sun rises every morning just before the moon comes up. It is very nice to see the sun come up because it is a very nice sight. The sun rises every morning just before the moon comes up. It is very nice to see the sun come up because it is a very nice sight.

Blanket likes to play with his friends because he likes to play with them. He likes to play with them because he likes to play with them. He likes to play with them because he likes to play with them.

5. Answer the following questions about what you've just read:

- a. What might be the general of the lesson during this story?