

Subject: Re: A Man is like a Tree Branch

Paula,

Do you think I'm going to give up so easily? I'm just getting started with you! I wanted to say thank you very much for the very intriguing, and engaging afternoon with you. I thought we both enjoyed it. I thought you enjoyed having someone listen to your story. You were very generous to tell me about what you are into. I was intrigued that someone could be so passionate about something. But you probably know that I thrive on sharing passions - I told you didn't I?

I was happy to find in you someone who could engage me intellectually. I think you enjoyed that too. That's the brains side the long cool woman, isn't it? The looks - well - I am very attracted to you that too. The both of them is what I really like. You probably understand - you're very sharp. For me I guess it's the procreation instinct. Of course, at the most primitive level I was being driven, for the most part, by that instinct. A woman with beauty and brains will be the best mother for my child. At this point, maybe you are gagging. hehheh - you already have children -you don't want any more - you're very focused on your project. Then again, I should stop assuming things, right? I haven't had children. I want one.

I liked how you played with your green scarf. In the cubby hole there in the sub shop, I almost grabbed it gently and tugged you over closer to me. When you accused me of being part of the conspiracy, I admit that I became very uncomfortable. If I were smart, I would have realized that you wanted me to explain to you my real agenda -to get closer to you - same as your real agenda. I think we both wanted it. So I apologize for blowing it. I think within minutes your thighs would be resting on my knees and we'd decide that we should walk to your place immediately.

I'd really like to know you better. Know what you felt. I'm rather inhibited as you probably know, but even more so because you really are someone I'm super attracted to. My mom was a long cool woman, but not intellectual like you. Not that I'm looking for a replica of her. You are most delightful. I've known many beautiful women, but you are especially delightful. And I hope you know - that's only the icing on the cake. The really nice thing is to experience life in a shared way with a long cool woman - knowing we relate well - that when one of us expresses something - the other can acknowledge it - that's it! Add the passionate sex on top of that, and all the other joys of companionship, and just beholding a fascinating being, part of the miracle of nature, hopes and dreams wants and needs, the good and the bad, mutual support, someone there for you always.

On the other hand, I've vectored off on this back to nature trip. I'm really against capitalism now. I like the techie stuff, the computers, the rock n roll music, entrepreneurial energy, but I'm really getting away from capitalism because it's being jammed down people's throats really really badly by the criminals in Washington and other places. So I wish I could say you and I have a future together but we probably don't. It would be a constant ideological clash.

Still I want to hang out with you on Christmas. We are Catholics - we need to hang out on Christmas. If you don't go to Florida, I invite you over here and we'll have a feast. Think about it ok? You were so generous with your talent, sharing who you are, sharing your passions, reaching out as you did. I want to repay you by cooking you some pasta - or something else, with fresh chopped ingredients and the works. Ok? Else have a great time in FL with your daughters - they are most important!
Rob

Never miss a thing. Make Yahoo your homepage.
