Hi I'm Hasit and I'm 13 years old. I was born in Brighton, but I live in the countryside in Haslemere with my parents, my 18-year old sister Ales and my 20-year old brother Brent.

We live in a semi-detached house and our neighbours, the Smiths, are really nice people. My best friend also lives in a house opposite us which is great! My house is not very big, but it is very cosy. It has got three bedrooms, a living room, a dining room, a big kitchen and two bathrooms. We also have a nice backyard behind the house which has a swing and a slide. I like to play football in the garden too. We haven't got a garden at the front of our house but we have got a big driveway, my parents park their cars in it.

As we have only got three bedrooms, I have to share a room with my brother. Our room is small but we like it. It has a bookshelf with a bed on top of it, I sleep on that top bed! Our room is decorated with bright colours - blue and green. We have posters on the walls of Harry Potter and a big map of the world. We also have a long shelf above the bed for all of our books and other items. There are some pictures of our family and friends in the bedroom. We also have a table with three pinkish-orange chairs, a CD player and a computer, which is on my brother's desk. We would like to have a television in our room, but our mum and dad say we are students and we must study hard, so if we want to watch TV, we have to go to the living room. We haven't got a very big wardrobe as we also have a dresser under the bed to keep our clothes in. It really, really has my room! It's colourful and comfortable and it's not noisy!
