

Name _____

Subjects and Predicates

Identify subjects and predicates.

Complete subject – tells whom or what the sentence is about
Complete predicate – tells who or what the subject is or does
Simple subject – the main word in the complete subject
Simple predicate – the verb in the complete predicate

Draw a circle around the simple subject in each sentence.

1. Bobby learned how to walk.
2. The boys ate it up.
3. My legs are tired.
4. The man walked across the street.

Draw a circle around the simple predicate in each sentence.

1. We made a cake together.
2. First we measured the flour.
3. Then we added the eggs.
4. It bakes for one hour.

Draw a line between the complete subject and the complete predicate. Then write the simple subject and the simple predicate.

- |                                             | Simple Subject | Simple Predicate |
|---------------------------------------------|-----------------------|-------------------------|
| 1. Mr. Jones' class took a trip to the zoo. | _____                 | _____                   |
| 2. Maria saw a big lion.                    | _____                 | _____                   |
| 3. All the children looked at the lions.    | _____                 | _____                   |
| 4. Many people visited the zoo that day.    | _____                 | _____                   |
| 5. The bus took us to school.               | _____                 | _____                   |