

Combining Sentences: Compound Predicates

RULES

- The compound predicate contains two or more simple predicates that have the same subject. Join the simple predicates with and, but, or or.

We study and rehearse our lines.
Our teacher laughs or cries after each scene.
She wanted but didn't get more funding.

Join the predicate of each sentence pair to make a compound predicate. Use the word in parentheses ( ).

1. Jeanette sings in the play. Jeanette dances in the play. (and)
_____
_____
2. The actors talk before the opening. The actors rest before the opening. (or)
_____
_____
3. The school rented chairs for the performance. The school borrowed chairs for the performance. (and)
_____
_____
4. My teacher didn't ask us to make costumes. My teacher persuaded us to make costumes. (but)
_____
_____
5. My father didn't sell 20 tickets. My father bought 20 tickets. (but)
_____
_____

McGraw-Hill School Division

