What's Happening	What I Can do About It
My books are wet from my walk to school. It's bugging me.
My dog is really hyper and she is running around the house like she's crazy. I don't think she's had a walk today.
Yesterday my hoodie got soaked when I was walking home from school. I wasn't wearing a coat.
I have homework to do, but my parents can't help me with it because they don't know how to do it.
My permission slip for substitute lessons is due tomorrow but my mom hasn't signed it for me yet.
I want to go to Sam's house after school but my teacher won't let me use the phone to make plans.
I really want a new game for my Xbox but I don't have any money.
