

Nouns are names of things.

Help this man find all the things that have fallen out of his fridge by writing their names on the door.

