Encourage your child to be on the lookout for new words each time she reads at home. Whenever an interesting word is found, have your child write it on a piece of paper. Help her look up the word in the dictionary and write a brief definition on the paper. Then, have your child drop the paper in a large container, such as a mayonnaise jar. Every few days, select two or three words and ask her their meanings. If she answers correctly, record the words in a notebook. Every time five new words are remembered, reward your child with a special treat, such as a bookmark or sticker.
