

The Present Tense – Present Progressive

There are three aspects of the present tenses:

- 1) Simple present
- 2) Present progressive
- 3) Present perfect (simple and progressive)

★ = action

The present progressive tense is used to describe actions that are in progress.

- Use the helping verb “am” before a verb when used to describe (I).
- Use the helping verb “is” before a verb to describe the (he, she, it).
- Use the helping verb “are” before a verb to describe (we, you, they).
- Add “ing” to the verb ending.

I [am] [verb + “ing”] he / she / it [is] [verb + “ing”] we / you / they [are] [verb + “ing”]

Example: I am running.

Example: He is running.

- Add the word “not” between the helping verb (am, is, are) and the main verb to form the negative.

Example: We are not running.
